

Co-editing feature overview

By the end of 2021, 51% of all knowledge workers worldwide are expected to be working remotely, up from 27% of knowledge workers in 2019*. Cross-platform co-editing in MindManager makes collaborating with team members easy, no matter where in the world you are.

Inspire collaboration with the visual power of MindManager

With the scope and significance of activities in today's professional environment, teamwork is key. Most projects require multiple contributors and reviewers to ensure the greatest chance of success. MindManager co-editing is a secure cloud-based service that allows groups of people to get more done together across platforms and time zones.

Work today means working together

MindManager provides an intuitive visual framework that helps people brainstorm ideas, solve problems, and process information together. Interactively go from initial concept to strategy to execution. With MindManager co-editing, teams can make better decisions and stay in sync on opportunities, projects, and strategies.

- For small teams: Teams of 2-4 people
- For enterprises: Teams of 5 or more people
- For consultants: Who work with various clients
- For education: Educators and students
- For collaborators: Individuals working with others

MindManager works across platforms

MindManager co-editing now works natively across platforms – Windows, Mac, Microsoft Teams, Chromebook, and Web. Anyone with access to the files can access and edit them at any time. It's also great for collaborative team settings as multiple users can join and edit together.
